ENGAGEMENT

Staff Engagement

Staff engagement is one of the most important mechanisms for sustainability, specifically energy efficiency, for your business. Without having your staff onboard, many of your effort to reduce energy intensity will be unachievable.

Exercise 1: What is driving your business to identify opportunities to save energy, water or waste?

Exercise 2: What are some ideas that your business could use to engage staff?

Exercise 3: Does your company have the right conditions in place to engage staff? How are you doing this? Do you have a plan or targets?

Exercise 4: Plans, teams and champions. Who are the sustainability champions in your team? How will you celebrate success? How can you make sustainability part of what your business is, and what it does?

Exercise 5: How does your company engage staff? Which strategies could work for your business? How can you integrate these into current initiatives? business is, and what it does?
